Bemidji Students Urge Selection of College Head

BEMIDJI, Minn. — (AP) — A group of sign-carrying students paraded on the Bemidji State College campus during the noon hour Thursday, calling on the State College Board to appoint a president for the school.

Al Brusewitz, president of the student senate, and Norman Hesseldahl, editor of the student newspaper, started the demonstration in front of Memorial Hall with an apology to John Glass, acting president, who they said is without absolute power in making decisions.

Glass, assistant to the president, has been serving as president since the death 10 months ago of Dr. Harry F. Bangsberg, who was killed in a Vietnam plane crash with several other educators.

Between 300 and 400 students gathered for the demonstration in which signs said, "Want a president not a promise," and "fill the chair."

AL BRUZEWITZ/STUDENT POWER

THE LONELY LEADER

By the end of his term as student senate president at Bemidji State, Al Bruzewitz, will have weathered the storm of threatened impeachment, battled desperately for the support of the same student body who elected him and presented views that will be looked to as the crest of student power by some and the abyss of student conceit by others.

Very possibly no man at BSC will have a more frustrating year than Bruzewitz. His election remains a mystery in light of the support, or lack of it, he commands a few short months later. Why the change?

Al Bruzewitz isn't subtle. When he says that he wants to see "students control non-academic life as well as have some say in academic policy" he makes no friends. It upsets him to have people told where they must live, what time they must be tucked in and how their money is to be spent. "The student must have a voice in what is decided."

Statements such as these are not welcomed in northern Minnesota any more than those of an NAACP representative in Alabama. Bemidji students and administration want to adhere to the status quo; moving off center, especially a bit to the left is something to be not only avoided but dreaded. Everyone is happy. Things are blissful at BSC.

Bruzewitz isn't happy with what he sees around him. "The student body is more capable than it is given credit for." He has devoted his efforts toward pushing for what once was called student involvement but now goes by the name of student power.

"We have passed amendments that clubs should be recognized by the student senate rather than by the Student Activities Committee as is now the case." Students are trying to be given a seat on faculty committees, the ones concerned with curriculum changes and long range planning.

STUDENT POWER

The American Association of University Professors has issued a declaration of students rights which has been ratified by the membership at Bemidji State. Included in this declaration is the statement that "the student body should have clearly defined means to participate in the formulation and application of institutional policy affecting academic and student affairs.

While we may have a student senate at Bemidji that can deal in a limited way with student affairs, the power the senate exerts over academic affairs is negligible. One would think that the seating of students on faculty committees, especially those concerned with curriculum, would be the most positive step toward making this declaration meaningful. With the support of the AAUP members who have already accepted this declaration, it would be quite distressing to see administration opposition rise against the move.

The student senate president sees a change in the values at the college level, one that have moved "from the husky all-American to the politically involved."

This change has been illustrated by the senate's action toward the state legislature asking for a follow up of Gov. Levander's campaign promise that the voting age in the state be lowered to 19.

"Any time students get excited, things happen", but Bruzewitz sees his job as "devising some way to get the student body interested and united."

"There are personality conflicts here, but we have to learn to work together if our goals are to become a realization."

NORM HESSELDALH/STUDENT POWER

SEWING ISSUES IN APATHY

Norm Hesseldahl is the elder statesman of the student power movement at Bemidji State. In his hands lies the most potent weapon of the student power arsenal, the student press. Hesseldahl sees his paper more as a tool than as a weapon. Student publications have a job to do, and that job is not to parrot administrative policy, but rather "to help educate the student population to the benefits of student power and to push for the removal of outmoded ideas, improving the college while improving the students' situation."

Publications themselves, although in a highly favorable position, "are not the recipient of student power, but rather the driving wheels behind the movement." More freedom of the press is always to be looked to but the element of good taste sets the boundaries for college journalism, not the administration's whims.

If a crackdown on publications from administrative sources were imminent Hesseldahl sees "two roads open to college publications. The first would be the "Emasculated Student" with four pages of trivia "communicating" such facts as Tom and Bill visited Joe in 206A last evening, a good time was had by all.

The other choice would be to go underground and function as a renegade paper similar to the Free Statesman from St. Cloud.

This, of course, is only conjecture. There has been no concerted effort by administrative sources to muffle the Northern Student's voice, although a number of issues have raised both dander and eyebrows.

STUDENT POWER

Three of the wide ranging number of topics that have come under Hesseldahl's scrutiny are especially disturbing to him, "women's hours, the veterans PE requirements and the low creative content of classroom work.

The college has indulged itself in its 'attitude of in loco parentas' for too long and it is time to get in step with the times. The establishment of hours for minors is condoned but hours for those over 21 ridiculous. Anyone old enough to vote is old enough to know when to be in.

From a journalistic standpoint it is unfortunate for Hesseldahl that BSC women are not interested enough in their own affairs to voice some opinion in regard to hours. It is obviously ridiculous for the student paper to come out in support of something that the women themselves are ignoring.

The veterans issue is a very real one to Hesseldahl, himself a vet. He has taken the opportunity to petition the Student Admissions and Program Committee that "any beginning freshman who is 21 years or older should automatically be exempted from PE."

The reply to his request should set a precedent in this area that will stand until the vets as a group question the advisability of such a course. Here too there is not a great difference from the girls and their problems with hours. Until they are willing to present meaningful arguments to the administration, all the Hesseldahl can do is look on.

Even what goes on in the classroom is not beyond editorial reproof. "Putting some zip in the curriculum so that the kids can relate to makes education a more rewarding experience for both student and teacher."

JACK HAMRE/STUDENT POWER THE BUSIEST MAN

Jack Hamre is perhaps one of the busiest young men on the BSC campus. Aside from his duties as Junior Senator in the Student Senate, he is active in Phi Sigma Chi and has recently been appointed a Delegate at Large for the Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota region of the National Student Association. Credentials such as these might get him a free bus ride into town on a snowy day in July.

This is not meant to slight Hamre in the least but rather to point out that despite his involvement in local student affairs and, if his NSA duties be viewed in their broadest terms, at the national level he goes relatively unnoticed on the BSC scene.

Don't feel sorry for him though! In his quiet manner Hamre has scratched at the surface of what could be the realistic goals of student power here at Bemidji. No, he isn't undermining the violent overthrow of the housing office, nor does he plan to single handedly unite BSC women in a demand for better hours. All Hamre has done is watched. Watched what?

Well, the trouble with Hamre is that he is selfish. He has gone so far as to watch out for himself; strange but true. Who has ever heard of a student government officer who has gone so far as to stop petitioning to be placed on a presidential selection committee long enough to watch out for his own welfare.

Actually he has never been very sneaky about it. Look at his fraternity for instance, nice warm sweatshirts, handsome new windbreakers and best of all, duly recognized and registered by and in good standing with Bemidji State College. What could be better? Funny you should ask! How about opening up a chapter of a nationally recognized fraternity right here in Bemidji, the home of the biggest of the big brothers, Paul Bunyan, himself?

STUDENT POWER

Hamre has said that "the frats are ready to go national," but that's only because he's looking out for himself again. He thinks that a national fraternity would "offer social contacts nation wide, business contacts after graduation and an assurance of trust, brother to brother anywhere a member may go", but it was said in a fit of selfishness, so it can be discounted.

Of course, nothing stops the frats from going national. After all, aren't all students free to organize and join organizations to promote their common interest. Surely anyone may affiliate with an extramural organization. That wouldn't disqualify a student from recognition, would it? Or would it?

That brings up another point too. Why don't students really revolt and set up an Absolute Supreme J. Board. What could do more to promote the common interest than that? What a great way to raise all the hell you want and never get called on the carpet for it. That way, if a girl were twenty-one, there wouldn't be J. Board even if she came in as late as half an hour past her eleven o'clock curfew. Hamre doesn't like the idea though. What he wants is an "all student J. Board with a faculty advisor." That way, those guys who talk to their girls through a second floor window wouldn't have a chance. Yes, these really are radical steps that Hamre has called for, demands that obviously can't be met. Or can they?

Jack Hamre, in his own quiet, selfish way, has the answer. Do you?

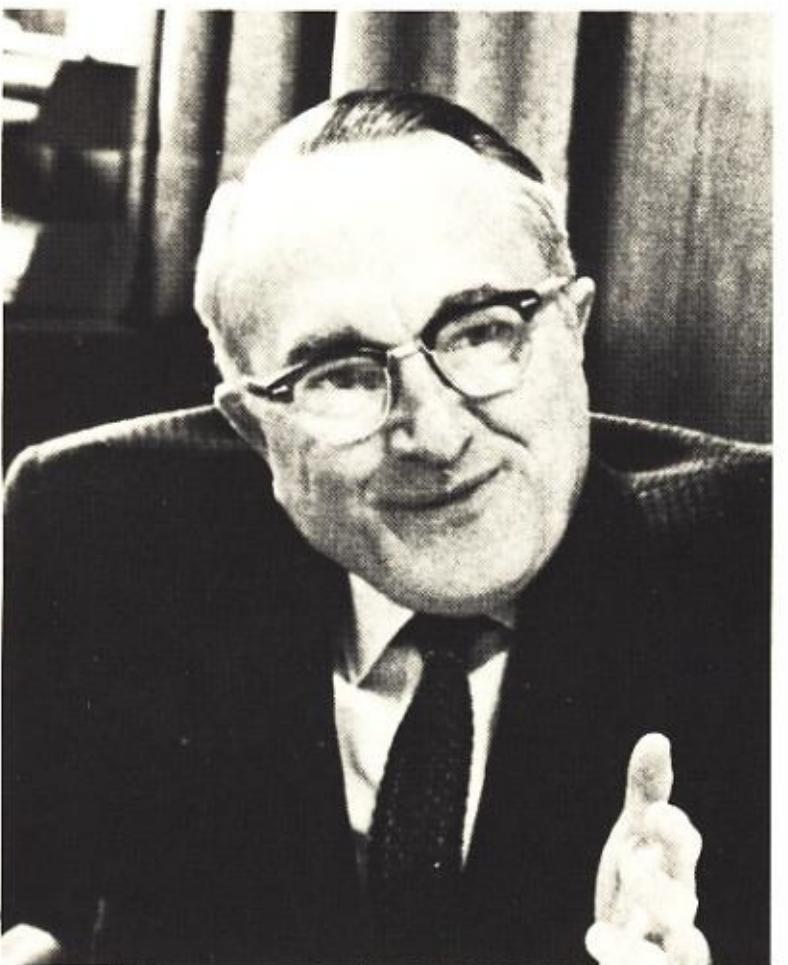

JOHN GLAS/STUDENT POWER

When President John Glas says "they are willing to hang me but they don't want to talk to me", he has hit with unerring accuracy the reason for the failure of the student power movement at Bemidji State. A demonstration for a new president on the steps of Memorial Hall does as much good as a razor blade in a hemophilia ward. It didn't do what a good demonstration could do. One perhaps wonders if a better demonstration in the state college board's back yard might have been more effective than one in President Glas' backyard two hundred yards away. "These people seem to feel that they have to do something exceptional ... any progress takes blood, sweat and tears."

"The senate has lost support, it must be more patient." "They haven't taken enough time to see that the student body was with them."

This is indeed unfortunate. Mr. Glas is a man who can be spoken to. Getting concessions of the magnitude that some of our student power advocates seek is unreasonable to think of. Indeed Mr. Glas himself has recognized that "some of them aren't so sure they really want the things they ask for."

"They are willing to hang me but they are not willing to talk to me."

One question keeps recurring in relation to this idea. Student power advocates are asking a seat on a committee to aid in the selection of a new president. Maybe just to spite these people that seat should be offered. Then, everyone on campus can mass on the basketball floor of the Phy. Ed. building and sit down. The first one to stand gets the job. Just a suggestion, bring a pillow.

"The student movement is having growing pains", according to President Glas, but one has to wonder if it is growing pains or some kind of deeply rooted tumor lodged in the recesses of the brain which inhibits rational thinking.

The student body is fed up with hearing that controversial matters can't be brought up before Mr. Glas because he is virtually powerless. Who has been running BSC since a year ago March anyway?

By the time this book is in your hands we may have a new president. Will that make a difference in the fortunes of the student power? Not unless someone decides to dole out some crumbs.

Then again, the state college board may still be lying in state. Another chance may come about to put heads together and come up with a workable solution where everyone is happy with his piece of bread rather than the crumbs.

The cake is still far far away and will remain there until responsible student leadership approaches a sincere administration.

While your boisterous student leaders and arm chair editors attend conferences, call NSA in Washington to find out what student power is all about, demonstrate for a “President not a Promise”, rewrite poster regulations, and attempt to preach “Student Power” into existence, Homecoming Queen Susan Pooch.

Homecoming 1967

While the Trojans managed to escape untrammeled, it was still a good week in Beaverland.

A beautiful queen, a successful parade and the laying of the cornerstone in the union highlighted the events.

Sue Pooch, a junior cheerleader from Lamberton, was elected queen by the vote of the student body. President John Glas upheld tradition by kissing the queen at halftime ceremonies of the football game.

The Blue Diamonds from Minneapolis entertained at the dance held in the Phy. Ed. building Saturday night.

There was an extra event on the homecoming calendar, the laying of the corner stone at the sparking new union, the Beaver Dam.

The Trojans

Hopes for a Beaver homecoming victory were lost in a storm of first half touchdown passes from Winona quarterback, Tom Lennon, to split end, Tom Von Felt. Lennon found the mark on 5 of the 6 passes he threw in the first half, chalking up four scores and 193 yards through the air.

Although overshadowed by Lennon's brilliance, Bemidji signal caller, Matt Stimac, completed 17 of 32 attempts in a fine display of fire-power of his own. Sophomore end, John Redebough, grabbed ten Stimac ariels to set a team record, and halfback, Sal Scaglione, ripped off 96 yds. in seventeen tries for the humiliated Beavers.

FOOTBALL

fast sport

An explosive offense and a hard charging defensive line made the Beavers better their 3-5-1 record indicates.

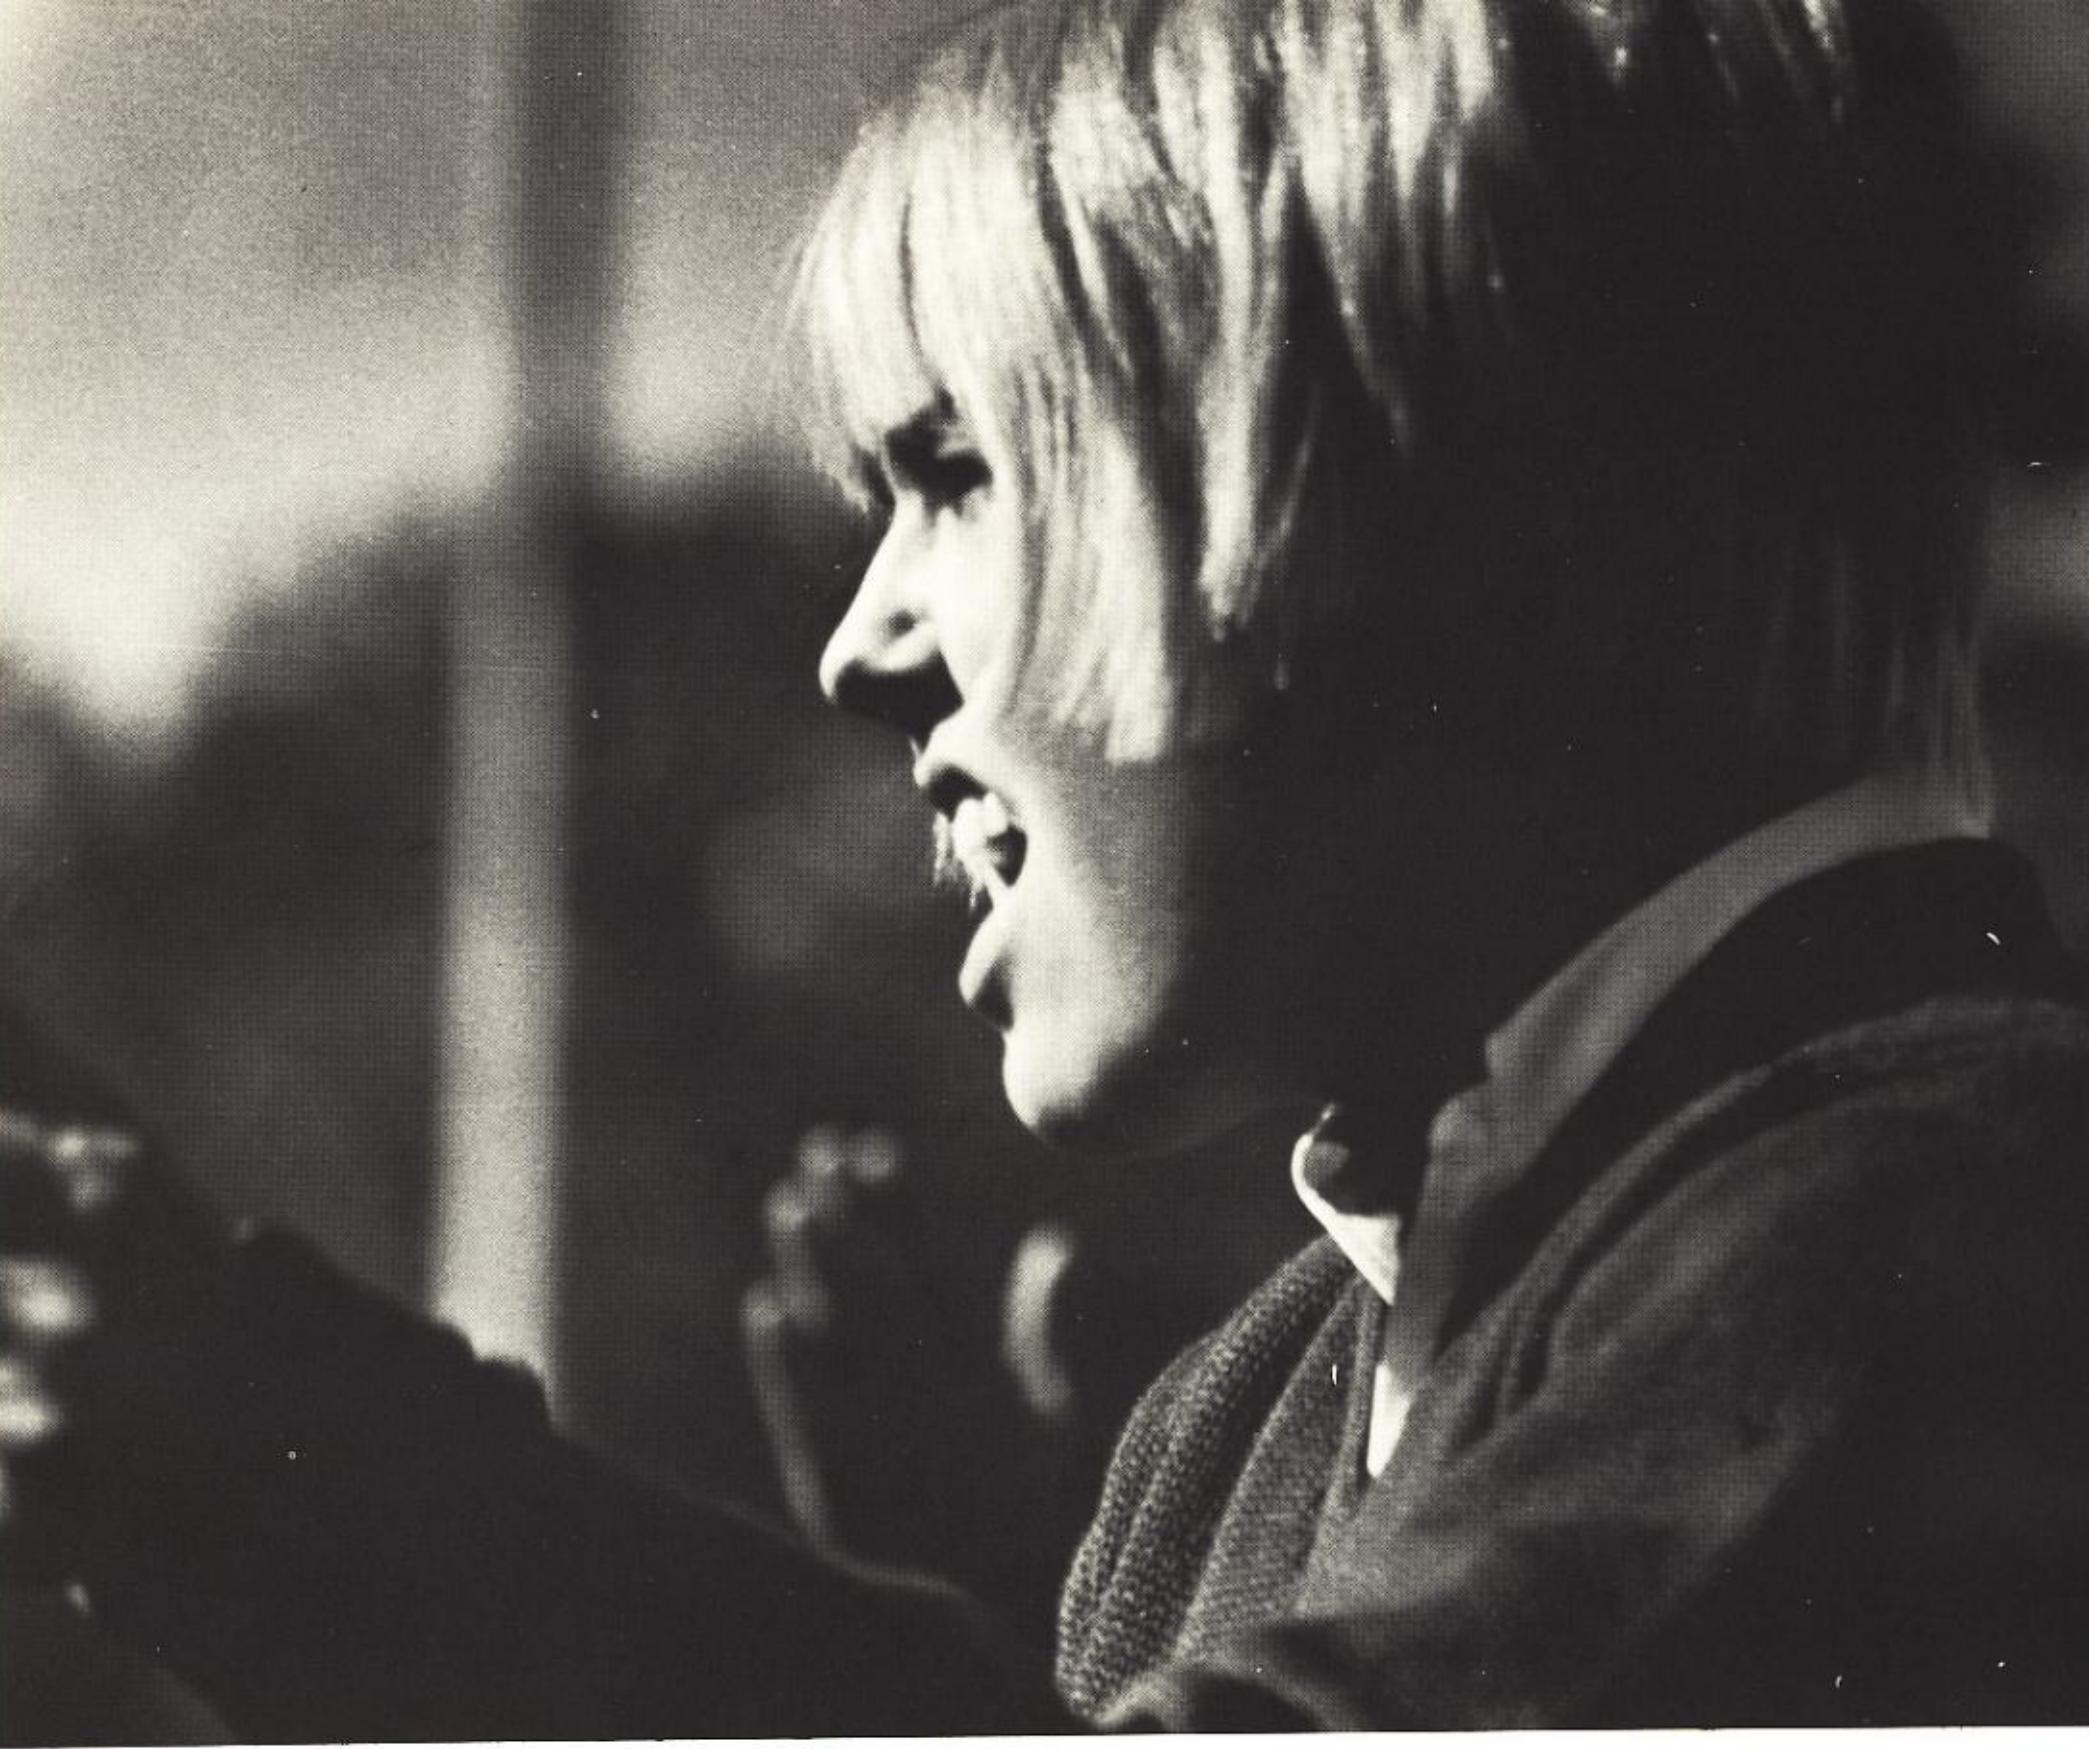

The pass was the weapon most utilized by BSC. In Matt Stimac they had a man who threw better than any other in the league.

The speed of the outside receivers Ken Bauman, Craig Hutchinson and John Redebaugh made Stimac's job that much easier.

The fast sport

Paul Belgum anchored the defensive, playing inspired football throughout the season. Frosh tackle Brian Paulson showed great promise as did Mike Neary. It was tough for the opposition to run outside too with ends Jim Sorteberg and Rick Black turning them back inside where Evan Simmons and Leroy Tashner applied the pressure.

N.A.I.A. TENTH IN WRESTLING

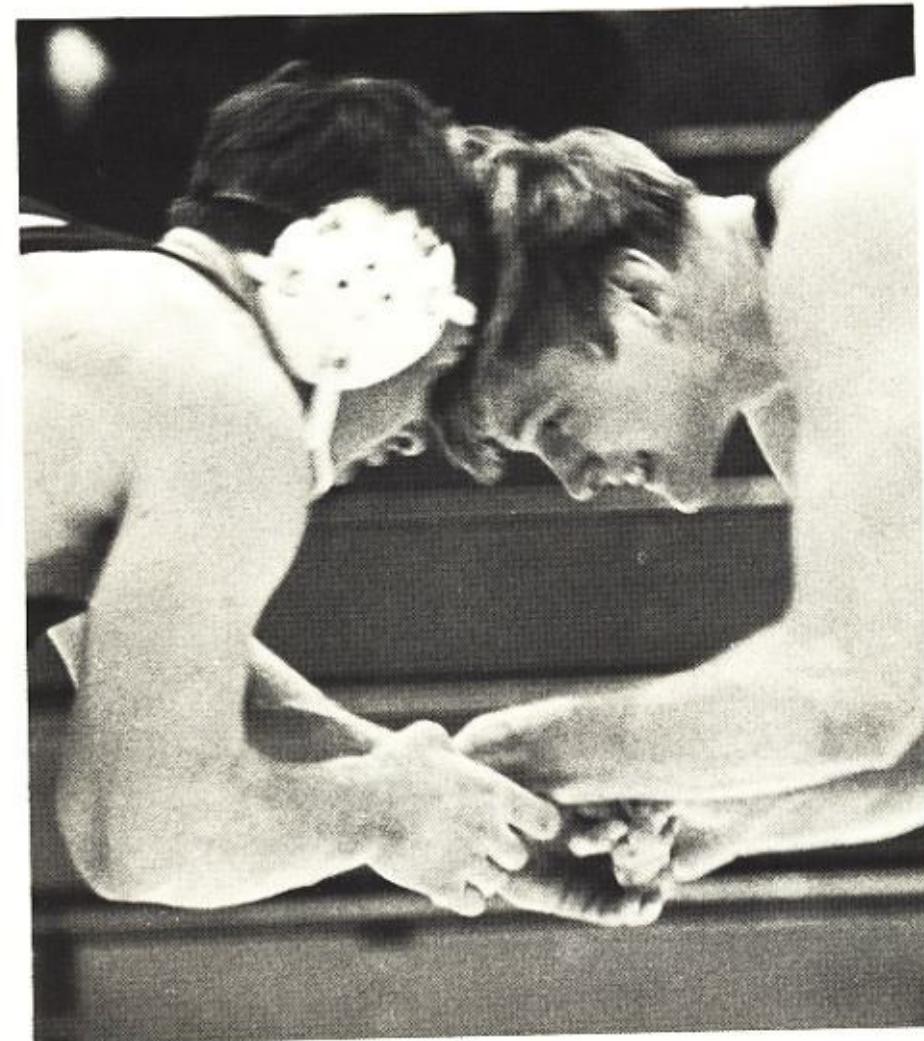

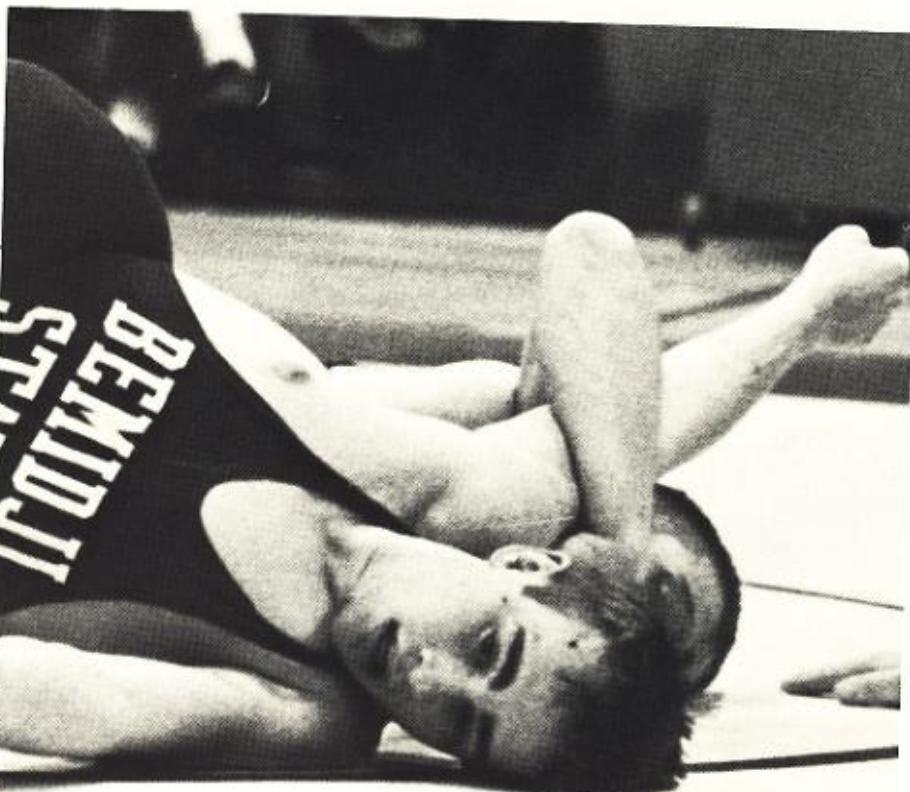

Two Beaver matmen made especially brilliant efforts in the NAIA National Wrestling Championships at Alamosa, Colorado.

Rick Engh, a sophomore from Robbinsdale, placed high in national competition for the second consecutive year, taking third place in the 123 pound class.

A freshman sensation, Chuck Eckert of Bloomington, grappled his way to a third at 160 pounds. In addition, he was awarded the Gorriaran Trophy, which goes to the wrestler with the most pins in the national tournament.

Off campus living doesn't differ from on campus. You may save money, but you have to eat your own cooking, although if you have even limited skill with the culinary tools you should come out on top. Then again, you will have the pride of living in approved housing.

Residence Hall Contract for the Entire Academic Year

I, _____
(print full name)
hereby apply for residence hall board and room at Bemidji State College for the entire academic year, unless I withdraw from the college before the end of the year.

In order to reserve a room a one-hundred dollar ($100.00) deposit is required. Seventy-five dollars ($75.00) of this deposit is applied to the first month's room and board; twenty-five dollars ($25.00) is a reservation deposit fee.

The twenty-five dollar ($25.00) reservation deposit fee, which must be kept at the full amount during your residency, is to be applied on any charge for damage caused by the resident(s) to buildings, furnishings, or cleaning service necessitated by student misconduct or untidiness. The deposit is forfeited if a student withdraws from the college during the contract period.

If notice of withdrawal is made in writing to the Director of Housing at least thirty (30) days before the opening of the quarter for which the reservation was made, a refund of the one-hundred dollar ($100.00) deposit fee will be made; otherwise, it is forfeited.

No refund of room and board payments will be made to anyone during the last two (2) weeks of an academic quarter nor at any time unless the checkout is authorized by the Director of Housing.

Reserved rooms are not held after 6 p.m. on registration day unless previous arrangements have been made.

The dinner meal is not served on Sunday evenings.

It is customary for the College to close the dormitories during Christmas and Spring Vacation periods and quarter breaks since charges are not levied during these periods.

During winter quarter eighty-eight people submitted requests to the Housing Office asking to be excused from their residence hall contract so that they might take residence in off campus housing. Eighty-eight requests, according to the information we received from the Housing Office, were refused. Most probably, none of these eighty-eight people had a legitimate reason to be excused, or so it would seem. We wonder.

The residence hall contract, "the tie that bonds," because the dorms are bonded, and are paid for by the money of the students, gives the appearance of being just another form to fill out at fall registration. The eighty-eight found out differently. In reality, it binds to the bonds all those who sign it, even though they may not be legally of age. Or might age have something to do with it? We wonder.

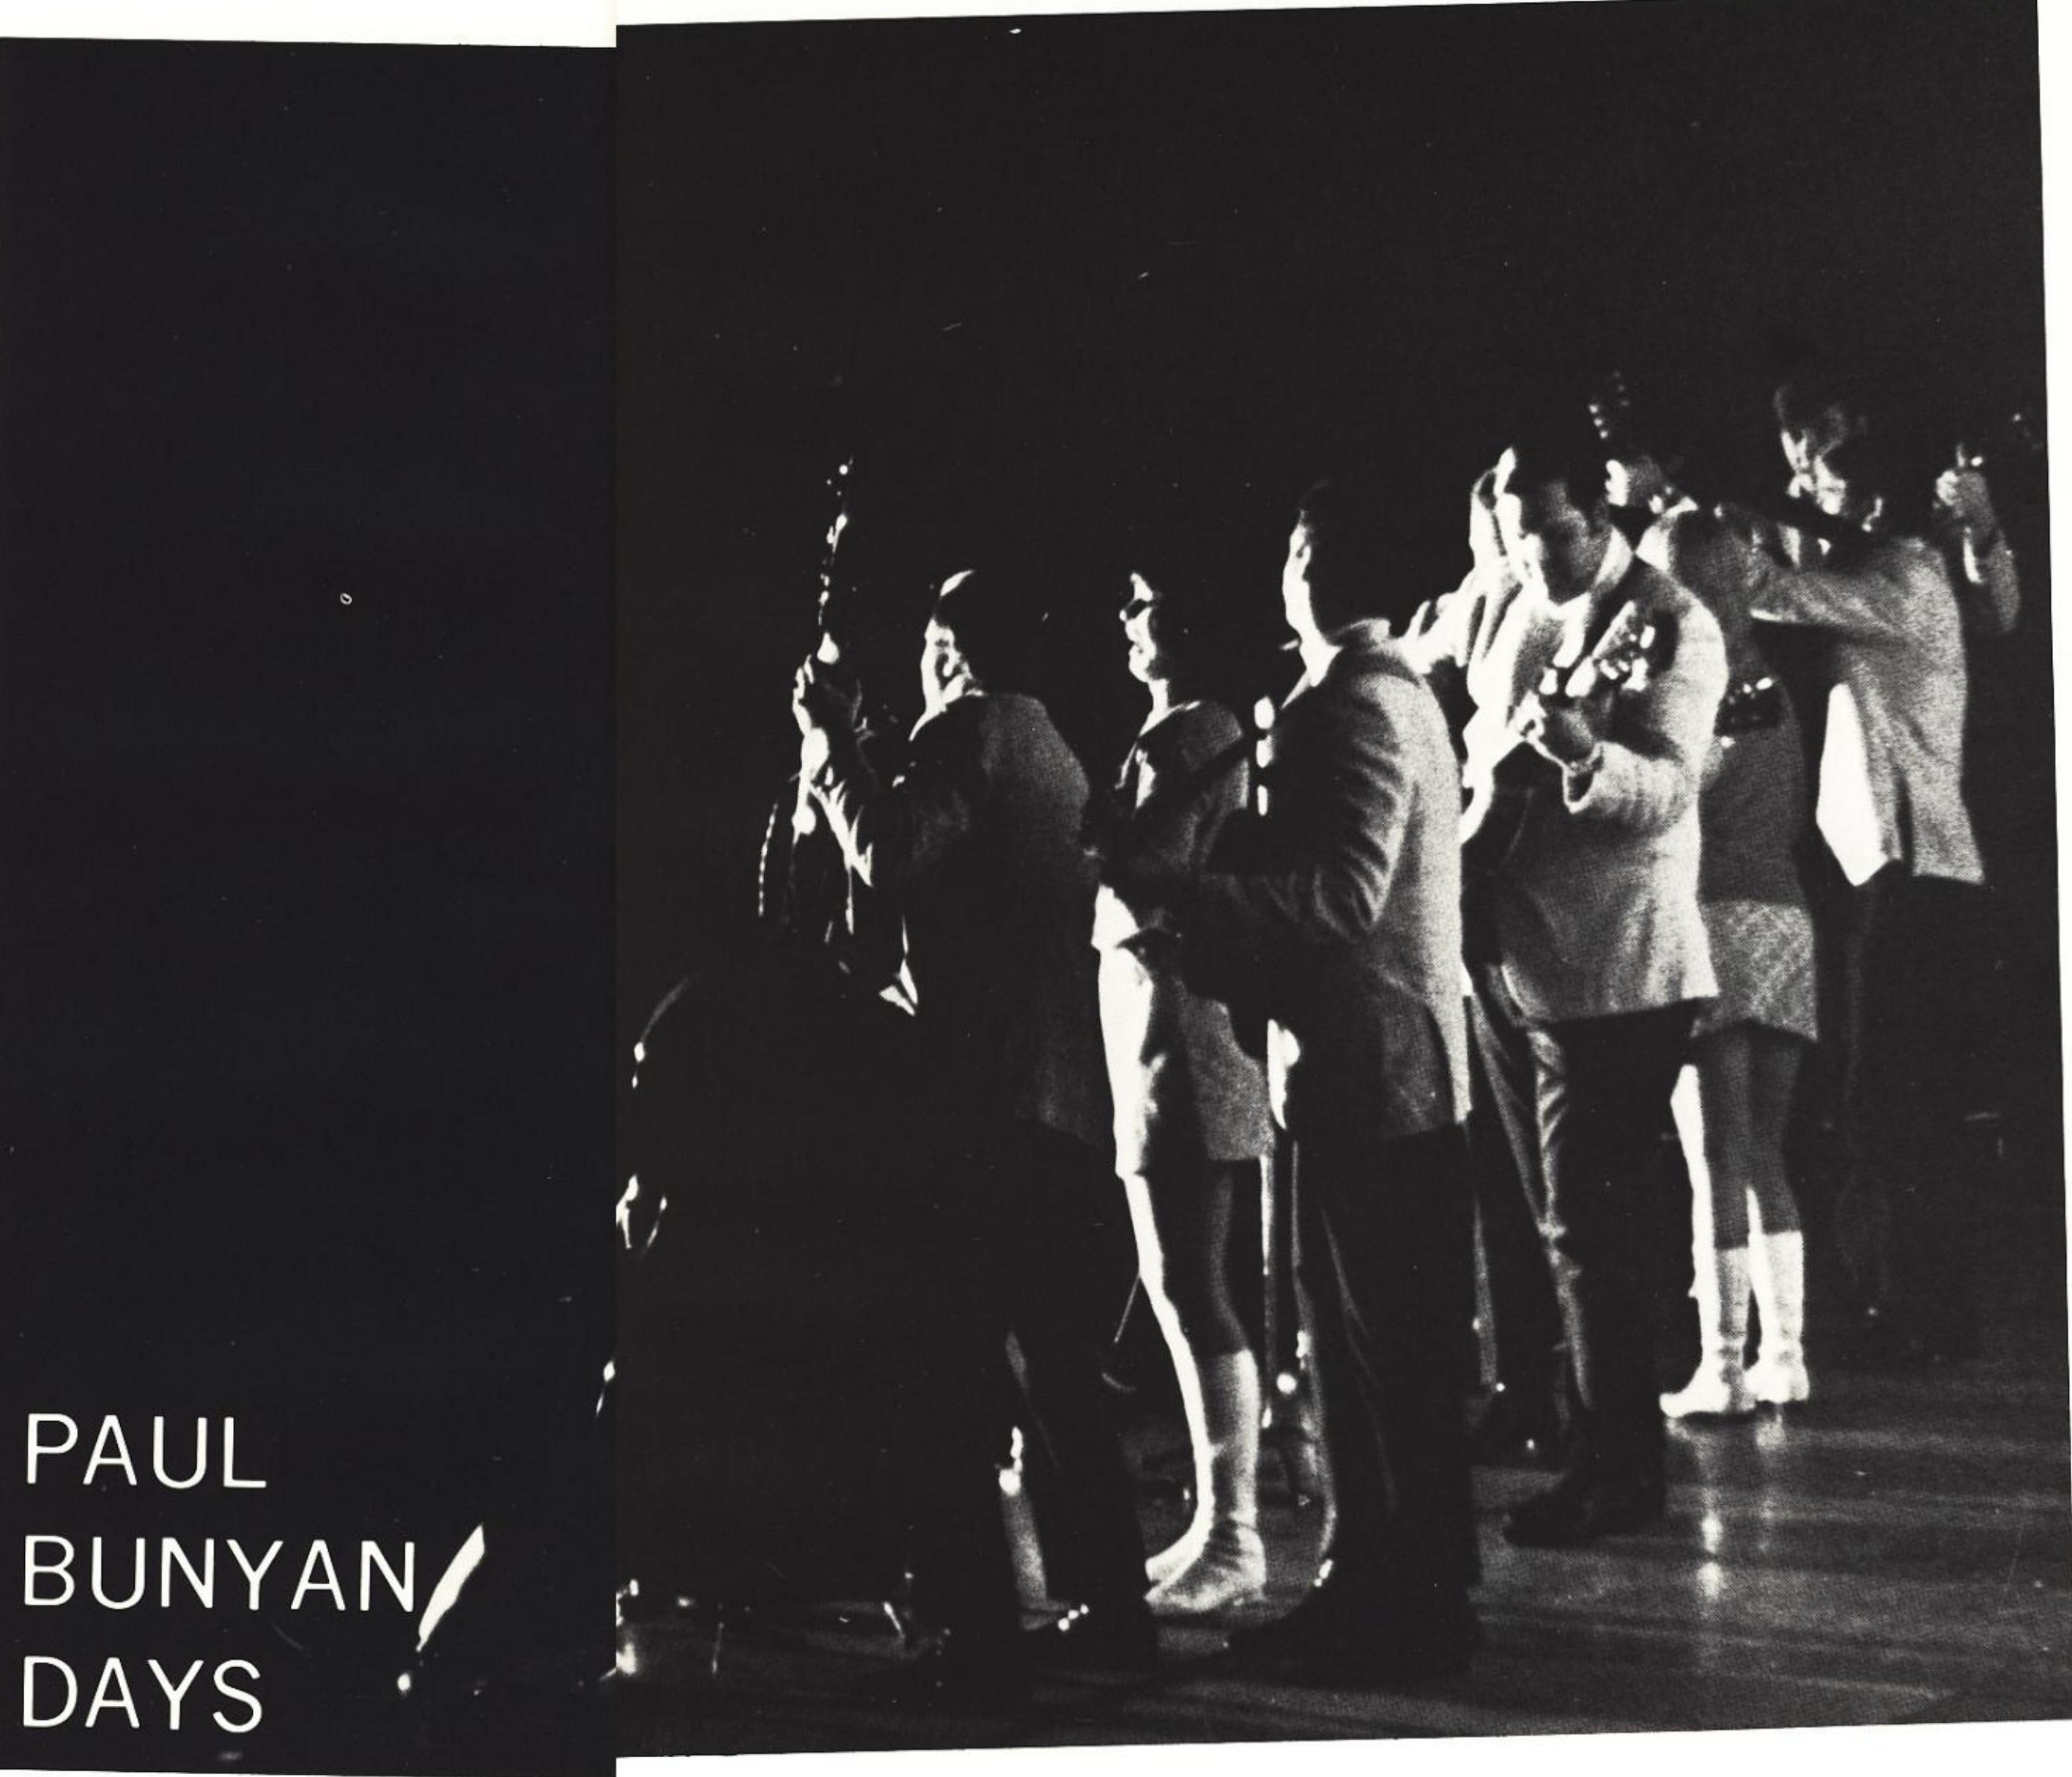

We can readily sympathize with the plight of the eighty-eight. After all, how were so many people able to move off campus after fall quarter? Perhaps a formal statement from the Housing Office defining just what is the criterion for being excused from the contract is in order.

Among the buildings slated for construction in the near future is a high rise dorm. BSC needs that like it needs a women's Phy. Ed. complex. Is it feasible to construct new dorm facilities while students clamor at the Housing Office door for off campus housing? We think not. We wonder . . . and wonder . . .

The New Christy Minstrels kicked off the 1968 Paul Bunyan Days with a concert to an overflow crowd in the Physical Education Building. At intermission, Jim Beach, representing Oak Hall and Sandy Jadlowski, a Theta Tau nominee were chosen to reign over the week as Paul and Carrie.

The competition of the members in vieing for tournament championships early in the year has been the highlight of the Chess Club year.

Intent on broadening the base of their membership, the club intends to sponsor tournaments open to all students. If a high calibre of player is the result, the club is toying with the idea of competing in matches against other state schools.

ACTIVITIES

AMERICAN STUDIES

The American Studies Club is interested with keeping abreast of all the happenings on the American scene. All phases of the American culture are viewed with an inquiring eye. The club members meet in an informal atmosphere to discuss their feeling toward American music or art or any topic in which they share an interest.

ART

The Art club provides students at B.S.C. with a chance to study and enjoy art together. This year marks the second year that the club has sponsored a show-commentary program. This program takes effect each time an art display comes to the college, and the meetings are devoted to critiques of the show.

The club also sponsors trips to other parts of the country where the members receive a first hand view of famous architecture, sculpture, and paintings.

BUSINESS

The purposes of the Business Club are to develop competent, aggressive, business leadership by participation in extracurricular activities; to create more understanding and interest in choosing business occupations; and to encourage scholastic achievement among Business Students.

At one of their meetings the Corporate Auditor for Minneapolis Honeywell, Roger Carolus, spoke on Internal Auditing. They have also had other speakers; sponsored a dance; and held a Winter Banquet at Val Chatel. The club has approximately 75 members.

The 1967-68 Season included such events as an evening of One-Act plays directed and acted in by the members; the production of the annual Sourdough Sam Show during Paul Bunyan Week; a Christmas Party; and the annual Awards Banquet in the Spring.

This years officers were Iona Way, President; Richard Anderson, Vice-president; Madelon Newell, Secretary-treasurer, and Tony Courier, Student Senate Representative.

FRENCH CLUB

The French club (Le Cercle Francais) is an organization consisting of 20 students who are taking French at B.S.C.

The club has participated in many B.S.C. events throughout the year, and has sponsored some of their own. In the past year, they sold Homecoming buttons, entered a float in the Homecoming Parade, had a Christmas party, and planned a Mardi Gras celebration to which the guests came masqueraded. The club members were given a chance to use their French when Frenchmen from the Renault factory in Paris came to Bemidji. The club had informal soiree with them which included discussions about nearly every topic imaginable from automobiles to Brigitte Bardot. The last scheduled event of the year is the spring picnic which is held at Itasca State Park.

ENGLISH

The Bemidji State College English club provides the student majoring or minoring in English with the opportunity to become acquainted with other students who share his interests.

Most club projects are open to the public. These include monthly sessions with guest speakers, book-of-the-quarter panel discussions, and the activities of English Week.

English club leaders during the 67-68 school year have been Steve Franz, president; Vivian Sutch, vice-president; Arle Hagberg, secretary-treasurer; Patty Gould, student senate representative; and Jean Barsaloux, program chairman.

RUSSIAN STUDIES

Any BSC student interested in Russia, Russian literature, history, language, people, or any phase of Russian life is invited to join the Russian Studies Club.

This year the Club plans to study Russian literature, as well as listen to recordings of plays by Russian authors, music by some of the great Russian masters, and have parties that will feature Russian foods and drinks. The clubs officers are, President, Tony Courier; Secretary-Treasurer, Dale Laskowsky; and Student Senate Representative, Barb Lausche.

MARRIED STUDENTS

The Married Students Association was formed mainly to provide a social life for the married students on campus. Their social events have included a hayride, activity nights where they played volleyball, basketball, and gone swimming, and a family picnic in the spring.

They have also sponsored a dance, had a holiday dinner, and contributed money to the Bangsberg Library Fund. The club officers are Chip Nunemaker, President; Pete Webster, Vice-president; Barb Church, Secretary-treasurer; and Any Workman, Student Council Representative.

MARRIED STUDENTS CLUB Chip and Sherry Nunemaker, Peter and Pat Webster, Terry and Roberta Harrington, Rodney and Barbara Church.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

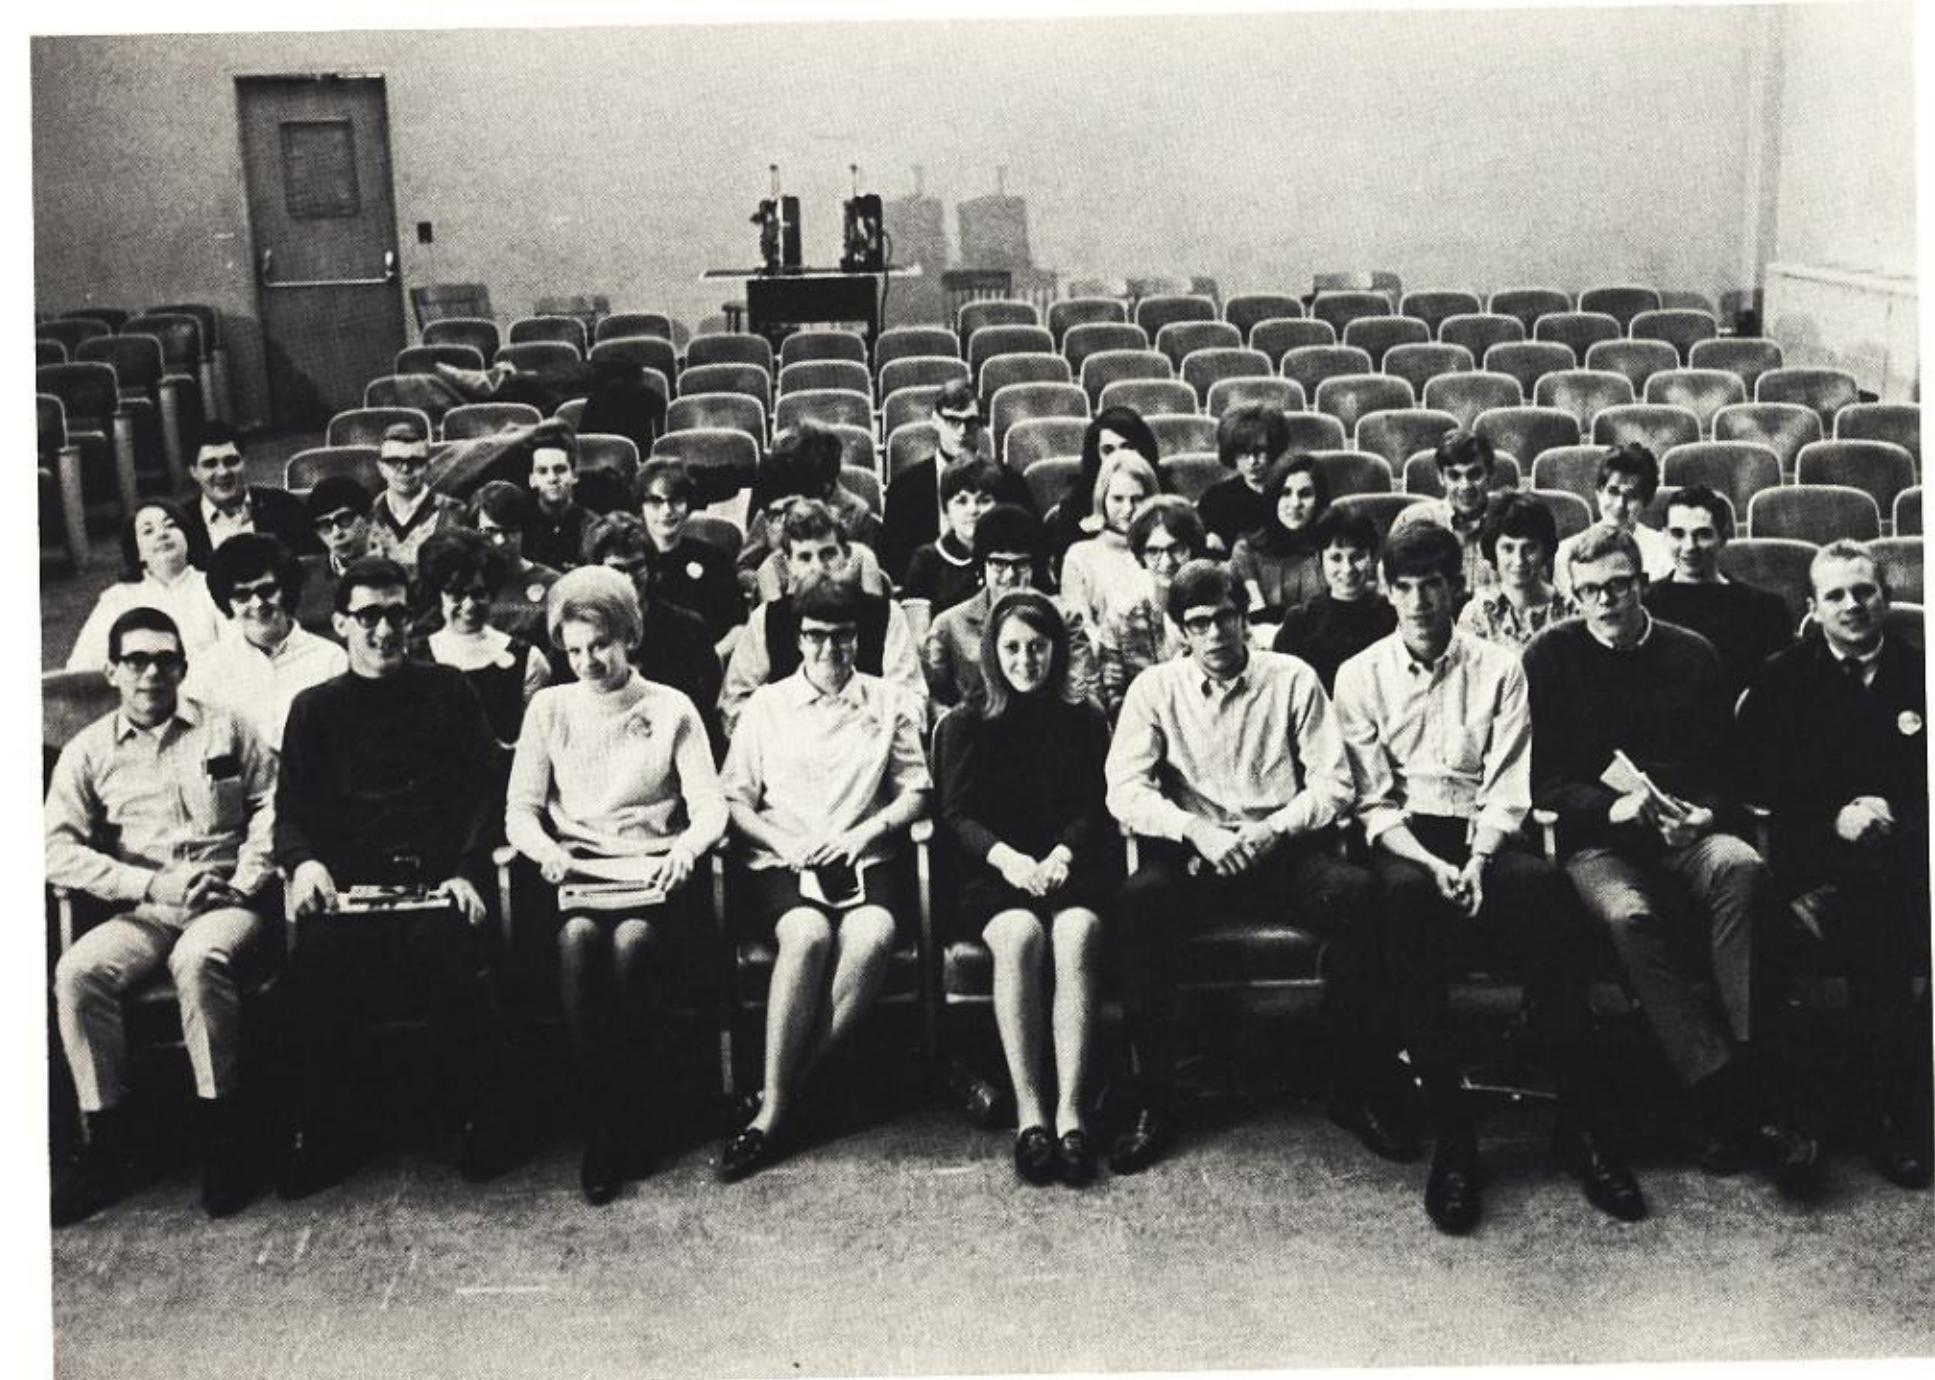

IV is composed of students from different churches, united in relating the Christian faith to every aspect of campus life.

The main event, as a club, is the weekly meetings held on campus. Social events are also a significant area of IV. This year they have sponsored a Barn Party, Pool Party, and a week-end visit with the Saint Cloud IV Chapter, skiing, tobogganing and skating.

There are specialized areas in IV such as the IV Singers, Beaver Bark, IV literature, Fall and Spring conferences, and weekend retreats. The biggest event of the year was the participation in the URBANA Missionary Convention, December 27-31, held at the University at Urbana, Illinois.

The organization has approximately 100 members.

LSA

The Lutheran Student Association has a varied program with most of its activities scheduled weekly. The regular program night is Thursday night and this year's theme was "A Christian in Today's World." The Association has sponsored movies, panels, discussions, and speakers who dealt with such topics as intergration, Vietnam, the Draft, Christian Witness, Bishop Pike's Theology, and Reformation in the church.

The LSA also works with the other religious foundations on campus to sponsor programs, regular worship services, the Dialog, and the Back Door. All students are welcome to the programmed activities.

FLYING CLUB

The Flying Club is a club organized for the promotion of interests in general aviation by providing activities such as the ground course which has been designed to familiarize interested people with the workings of an aircraft in detail. At the end of the course the student receives a certificate of achievement and the chance to take a written exam for the private pilot's licence that is given by a Federal Aviation Agency Examiner.

The newly formed Flying Commission is composed of ten students who are student pilots or pilots who will in the future run and maintain the club aircraft.

AMERIND

The club was organized to promote better relations between Indians and non-Indians, to inform other ethnic groups about the Modern American Indian, and to bring about solutions to problems this group faces in college.

Amerind members assisted in the Minnesota Indian Symposium held on the BSC campus. The members served coffee and distributed programs. They have also given panel discussions and sponsored a speaker from the Minnesota Indian Education Department.

The officers for the Amerind (American Indian) club were Donna Morrison, President; Donald Brodwell, Vice-president; Ken Litzau, Secretary; Toby Losh, Treasurer; and Dianne Kissel, Publicity Director.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Students from ten foreign nations comprise the membership of the International Students Club. Perhaps the most important functions the club serves are to orient a foreign student into college life and promote international relations and understanding. They had an exhibit in the library and are planning a talent show in the spring.

Officers in the club are: John Diakunchak, president; Sam Otigbe, vice-president; Jo-Anne Vincelette, Secretary-treas.; and Rosa Maria De la Cueva, publicity. Their advisor is Mr. Nadesan.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts club is a professional organization whose members are future Industrial Arts teachers and Industrial Technology majors. Annual activities include a Christmas Banquet, Spring Tour of Industries, and a Spring outing. Funds have been gained this year by printing stationary, building fish houses, and construction of the KBSC Campus Radio Studio.

The 1968 National Convention of the American Industrial Arts Association was held in Minneapolis. Our club manufactured and donated souvenir paper weights, which were distributed among those attending the convention.

Club membership has seen tremendous growth in the past few years. The membership this year exceeded previous years by nearly fifty percent, with a total of sixty-three members.

The Industrial Arts Club's homecoming float was awarded the second place trophy for the second consecutive year.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club's purposes and objectives are to provide financial and physical support for the Northern Minnesota Regional Science Fair; to provide an opportunity for informal meetings between science faculty and science students; to sponsor travelling science shows for area high schools and elementary school children; to present science programs to both science students and non-students at B.S.C.; and to host visiting elementary and high school students during their visits to the B.S.C. Science Department.

The club has sponsored such speakers as Drs. Nordlie and Connelly of the Ireland Research Laboratory of the University of North Dakota, Mr. Brummell on Desert Biology, Mr. McIntryre on Abscission, Mr. Frank Ebert on LSD; and they have had Science orientated movies, presentations by science faculty members and representatives of industry, and student-faculty dinners.

The Science Club has a membership of 30 active members.

PHI DELTA EPSILON

The Bemidji State chapter of Phi Delta Epsilon, the honorary journalism fraternity, devotes itself to furthering the cause of collegiate journalism at B.S.C.

In an effort to determine the position Bemidji occupies in relation to other Phi Delt chapters throughout the country, four delegates were sent to the Fraternity's bi-annual convention at Rider College in Trenton, New Jersey, during winter quarter. Aside from gathering information vital to their individual publications the B.S.C. journalists were especially gratified to accept awards for the publications produced in the 1967 school year.

An additional endeavor of the Bemidji chapter is the publication of the student directory, which lists the names, home and local addresses and phone numbers of all students.

THE UNION BOARD

The Student Union Board is to provide social, cultural, educational, and recreational activities and services for the students through the Union's programs and facilities. It is the responsibility of the board to plan, promote, and execute student activities in the Union, to be responsible for formulating the rules and regulations of the board, to serve on the planning committee for expansion and development, and to plan the expenditures of funds and budgeting. They are also responsible for the campus social program calendar of events and other general planning.

The board is also responsible for such things as Freshman week social events, Homecoming, Winter Formal, Spring Formal, and Paul Bunyan Week.

ALPHA NU OMEGA

ANO always has a full calendar of activities planned throughout the school year. Among their 1968 accomplishments ANO entered a strong team in the Paul Bunyan Days Winter Olympics, and managed to place second in the team scoring. The popular inner-tube race, the Upper Mississippi Tube Shoot, held in the spring is an annual event sponsored by the brothers of Alpha Nu. The fraternity has also sponsored college dances featuring such groups as the "Playboys" and the "Shades of Soul." Each spring quarter ANO conducts their heart fund drive over KBUN radio.

LAMBDA ALPHA BETA

Lambda Alpha Beta is a fraternal organization based on the principles of leadership and brotherhood. The purposes of ΛAB are: to enhance school spirit; establish tradition; develop pride in our school; develop college community relations; encourage scholarship; and establish guides for leadership training. In an effort to improve the status and develop a greater sense of responsibility of Bemidji State's Greek organizations, Lambda Alpha Beta has established the first fraternity house.

The activities of ΛAB have reflected the great interest of its members. The turnout for the designing and building of a homecoming float proved extremely successful and it took first place. This sort of enthusiasm has been evident in every endeavor this year, whether it was intramural football or a swimming party. The homecoming dinner and the formal party also proved successful. Towards the development of scholarship and outstanding achievement ΛAB has established two awards presented yearly to members who best exhibit these qualities.

In the future ΛAB plans to become more active in campus and community work. With the help of its new members acquired during the winter and spring rush ΛAB hopes to be even more successful in the future.

PHI SIGMA CHI

Phi Sigma Chi has been perhaps the most active fraternity on the B.S.C. campus in the past year. Among their purposes the fraternity lists community service and the improvement of the social life on campus.

In fulfilling the first of these purposes $\Phi\Xi\chi$ has helped in the annual cancer drive in Bemidji and has sold Christmas seals.

On a number of occasions M-100 has rocked to the sounds of the bands imported by $\Phi\Xi\chi$ in their attempt to meet their second objective.

Future plans call for continued community service with the fraternity painting the statues of Paul and Babe in downtown Bemidji as an annual event.

Phi Sigma Chi, although only in its second year as a recognized organization, has made an exerted effort to add new brothers to their ranks by extending pledge periods through each quarter of the school year.

THETA TAU EPSILON

The purpose of Theta Tau Epsilon is to help promote fraternal feeling between brothers and operate in such a way as to promote good will among students, faculty, and administration.

The social activities of Theta Tau include sponsoring dances and their first annual Halloween party, which was a great success.

Again this year, Theta Tau excelled in the field of sports. The intramural football team completed the season with six wins and one loss, good for second place in the off-campus league. The brothers of Theta Tau defeated Alpha Nu in the first annual softball game last spring quarter and placed first and third in the annual "Upper Mississippi Tube Shoot." They also won the Bunyan Olympics for the second consecutive year.

Honorable mention was awarded to the Theta Tau float for their 1967 homecoming float.

BETA PHI EPSILON

It has been a busy year for Beta Phi Epsilon. The girls were especially active at Homecoming, entering a float in the parade and winning second place in the skits. Paul Bunyan Week saw a great winter olympic team from BPE awarded an honorable mention for their efforts.

The Head Start Program, being conducted in Bemidji, has benefited from the work of the sisters who act as both playmates and teachers to the children involved in the project.

Through it all BPE still manages to maintain the highest scholastic average among the Greeks.

PHI THETA CHI

Phi Theta Chi is a new sorority on campus. It was officially recognized at Bemidji State College on March 3, 1967.

Fall Quarter the sorority had twenty-four active members and two advisors, Miss Bengston and Mrs. Nadeson.

The purpose of Phi Theta Chi is to promote persistence, truth, and character in the members by endeavoring to better their school, their community and themselves.

This year the sorority entered its first float in the Homecoming Parade. Community projects have included; trick or treating for the children in the hospital and the sorority's annual pop bottle drive. The proceeds were donated to the hospital.

Phi Theta Chi sponsored a dance Winter Quarter as its fund raising activity.

BEAVERS COP NAIA TITLE

Terry Bergstrom slid a fifty foot slap shot past Lake Superior State goalie Duffy Lewis at 3:57 of the sudden death overtime period to beat the Soo 5-4 and cop the NAIA National Hockey Championship, March 9. The game, called by some observers the "greatest ever played in the St. Paul Arena" brought the first NAIA championship to BSC in the schools forty-nine year history.

Although Bergstrom's tally was the most dramatic event, it was Barry Dillon who made it so. A sophomore from Wainwright, Alberta, Dillon ripped the nets for three goals, a hat trick, in the second period, keeping the Beavers within reach of the tough Soo Lakers from Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Dillon and Bergstrom were selected to the NAIA All-American Team as were teammates Jim McElmurry, Terry Burns and Bryan Grand. Grand was further honored, being chosen the Most Valuable Player in the tournament.
